The Yearbook of

ARKANSAS STATE COLLEGE

Published by The Student Body

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-Two

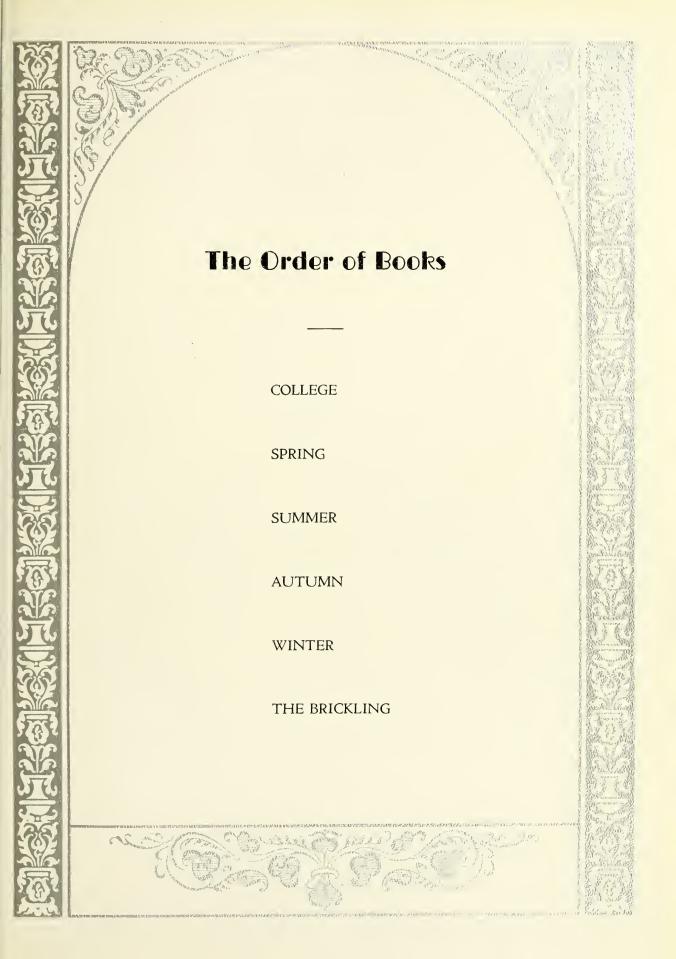

Volume Twelve

Dedication To Harry E. Eldridge, under whose capable leadership our National Guard unit maintains its highest proficiency, under whose assistance our Engineering Department upholds its standards, and under whose supervision our records are safely preserved -to the "hardest working man on the campus" this volume of the nineteen hunded thirty-two Yearling is dedicated.

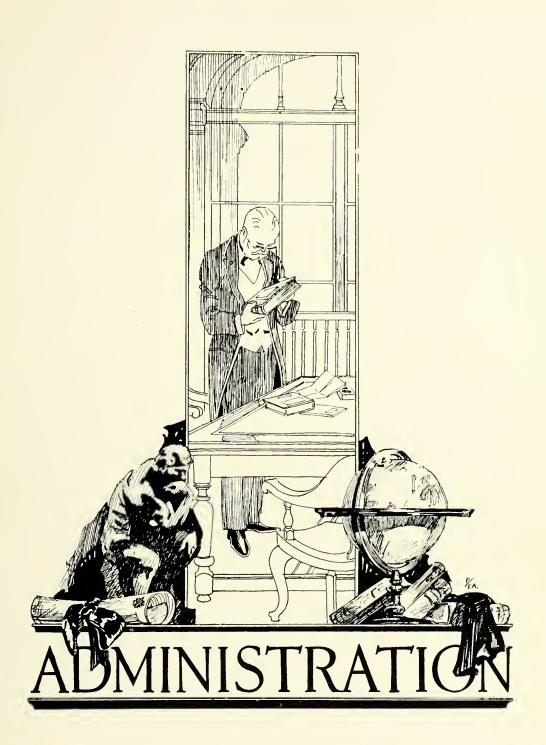

Foreword

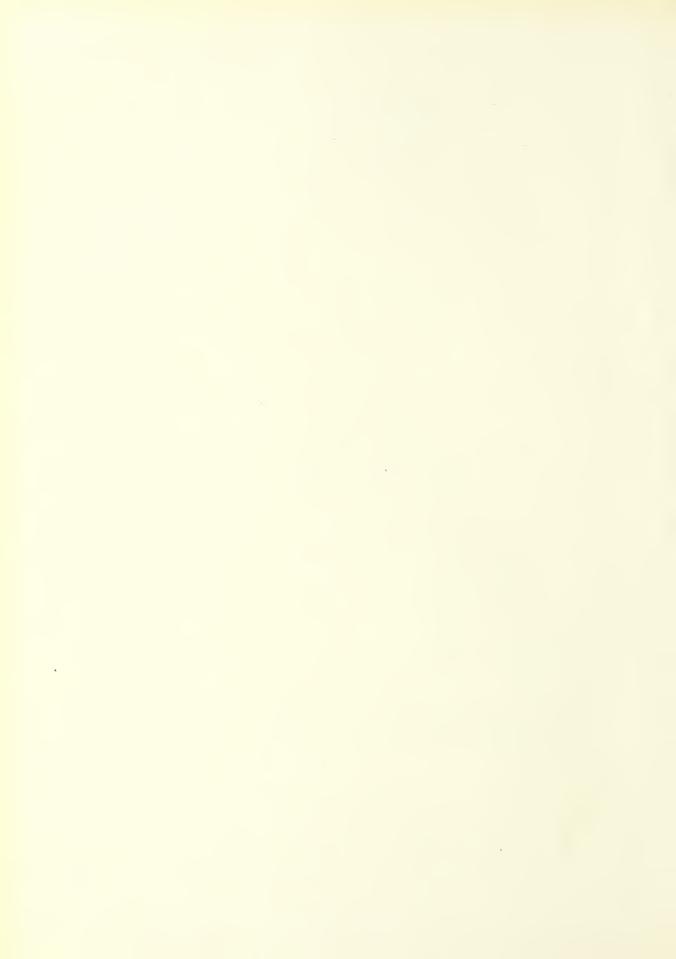

We beg of you to look upon the whole span of college life as but a single year in the passing of time. The Old Year of High School days is dead and gone. The Freshman starts into his new life with the freshness of Spring with all its glamour and newness. Then the Sophomore settles down to the task of college in somewhat the monotonous manner of a summers day. The Junior awakens to the fact that he should really derive something from college and seeks to reap the harvest of his whole school life in his final two years. With the Senior the task is complete, sweetest memories are in the past; memories that this volume of the Yearling hopes to recall in days to come.

President's Message

500 MOC

Two hundred years ago George Washington made the following statement:

"In a country like this, where every man may reap his own harvest, which by proper attention, will afford him much more than is necessary for his own consumption, if there cannot be money found for education, there is something amiss in the ruling political power."

In the same spirit on a December day in 1906 in Washington County, Arkansas, the County Farmers Union passed a resolution asking the Arkansas Legislature to provide for four state schools of agriculture. The Legislature of 1907 passed a bill providing for one school of agriculture. At the request of the State Farmers Union, Governor Donaghey vetoed this bill. On April 1, 1909, House Bill Number Two, by Hon. J. J. Ballamy, representative from Lawrence County, was signed by Governor George M. Donaghey. This bill provided for four state schools of agriculture. Thus, this institution came into being.

Arkansas has experienced two decades of unparalleled progress. In 1909 there were graduated from the high schools of Arkansas only a few more than three hundred young people. This year more than six thousand students will complete their high school training. This college has each year carefully surveyed the educational demands and needs of the people in Northeast Arkansas. It has conscientiously responded to all demands for service. The result is a highly effective collegiate organization animated by an unselfish spirit which dedicates this college to the educational service of the masses of our people, a dedication which at the same time guarantees the greatest of all safeguards for a permanent democracy, the building of character in those who will in the future be responsible for this government, the masses of our people.

V. C. KAYS.

Dean of the Faculty

Despite all the responsibilities of his office, Dean E. L. Whitsitt is noted for his cheery whistle as well as for his executive ability. Dean Whitsitt came to Arkansas State almost with its inception, and as the college has grown in popularity and in service, so has he grown in popularity and in service. He is an ever ready advisor for both faculty and students, straightening schedules, financial tangles, and extra-curricular problems with a practical hand.

It is under Dean Whitsitt's direction that the present four year college curriculum has been adapted from that of the Junior College. His foresight and energy have contributed their share to the growth of Arkansas State to its present level.

Dean of Men

Under the able direction of H. W. Hollard, life in Lewis Hall during the past two years has become one of the real pleasures on our campus. Although having only assumed the office of Dean of Men during the current school year, Mr. Hollard has been in charge of the men's dormitory for two years. Setting out with the avowed intention of making the dormitory a better and more home-like place in which to live, he has far exceeded his expectations.

Using one of the tools most effective on American youth, liberty, Mr. Hollard has transformed a room in the dormitory from the aspects of a prison cell to a homey and comfortable place in which to live. The respect that his character has commanded has been the most influential factor in his dealings with the young men students of Arkansas State.

For many years the most popular instructor on the "hill," the magnitude of his popularity has taken a much wider breadth because of the fair and square manner in which he has handled every problem in which he has had face to face contacts with the boys themselves. Mr. Hollard, we congratulate you on a very successful first year as our Dean of Men.

Dean of Women

Direction of women's activities at Arkansas State College rests on the capable shoulders of Mrs. Nannie A. Rogers, Dean of Women, who has served the young women of the campus in the capacity since 1926. Supervision of the out-of-town girls who board in Jonesboro is one of Mrs. Rogers' responsibilities, along with her close association with the girls living in Barnhart Hall. She also is interested through her membership on the Student Life Committee, in directing the social activities on the campus.

This year, Mrs. Rogers was influential in revising dormitory regulations which now are in accord with those prevailing at the best eductional institutions. She also helped in solving the student housing problem through her inspection and approval of local boarding places.

FACULTY

Arkansas State College

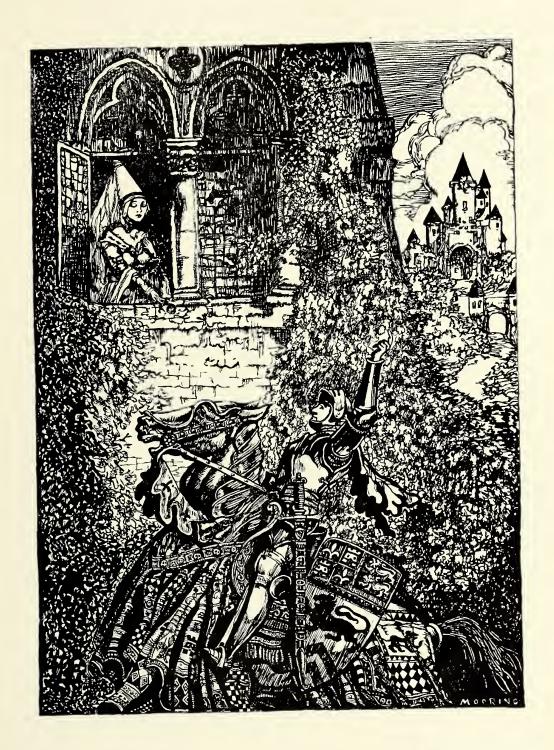

Arkansas State College in its two years as a Senior College has probably shown more advancement than any other college in this country has done in the same length of time. From a Junior College, two years ago, to a fully organized and functioning Senior College, that will confer over twenty-five degrees, A. B., B. S., and B. S. E., this spring is the record that has been established here.

Through the earnest endeavor of our President and our Board of Trustees there has been installed here one of the best college faculties that today exists in our state. Eight Doctors of Philosophy now are at the heads of our eight Senior College departments, History, English, Chemistry, Foreign Languages, Biology, Education, Mathematics and Physics, and Economics and Sociology. These degrees, from the largest universities in the United States, Chicago University, Princeton, Columbia, and others, together with the genuine ability of our faculty members, mark them as near perfection in instructive efficiency.

Our educational plant has been developed to such an extent during the life of the institution that, with the completion of Wilson Hall, our new administration building, it will have a value of more than a million dollars—a million dollars that is reaping returns many times in the service that it is rendering Northeast Arkansas.

Steady increase is being seen in our student body. The total enrollment in all courses during the last year was 1,293 students. The efficient organization of our institution, together with the widespread support that has been given the school, are jointly responsible for the increasing enrollments here.

Economy, the watchword of the present day, stands out as a banner that attracts the sons and daughters of the average man to Arkansas State College. But with our present standards of efficiency in educational plant and faculty, students who can well afford to go to more expensive schools have recognized the value of a degree from Arkansas State, and have found it to their advantage to attend here.

JOE

— A VETERAN DISTANCE MAN — IS CAPTAIN OF THIS YEAR'S SQUAD!!

Indian Spikers Drop Only One Meet During 1931 Track Season

Opening the season against Southwestern College of Memphis, with a 56-52 victory, the State College Indians were at first credited by the papers with a 55-54 defeat. However a check-up of the events by Sub-Captain Joe Hornberger revealed that the victory was in reality our own. The scorer admitted that the mistake was due to his error in compiling the final score. The meet was a nip and tuck affair, with a Southwestern lead gained in the weight events taken up by a strong Indian comeback in the jumps and track events. Newton, Southwestern sprinter and jumper was high point man for the meet with 18 points. Little, with eight points, gained by first place in the "hundred" and second place in the 220, was high point man for the Indians.

A fine display of courage was shown in this meet by Drake, Southwestern hurdler, who after leading nearly all the way over the 220-low hurdles, fell and broke his arm, but regained his equilibrium and finished second in the event.

Besides Little's victory in the "hundred," other first places for State were Falls in the 120-high hurdles; Hornberger in the 880-yard run; Hendrix in the low hurdles; Horne with the shot-put; Hazel in the discus throw; and the mile relay team composed of Hornberger, Cluck, Hendrix, and Keller, in that event.

Arkansas State took the second meet of the season by one of the smallest margins on record over Arkansas College, with the score 65 2-3 to 65 1-3. The affair was nip and tuck from start to finish with the outcome uncertain until the last event, although the visitors held the lead at only one time during the meet. High point honors for the meet went to Captain Harold Little of the Indian squad, with victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and participation in the winning medley and 880-yard relay teams, for a total of 12 2-3 points. Murphy of the Panthers squad was runner-up with 11 2-3 points.

Coach White's Indians showed superiority in the dashes, taking first and second places in the 100, 220, and 440-yard dashes. Hurdling honors went to the Arkansas Collegians with Patterson winning both of the handicap races, and the locals getting only four points out of the two events. Top points were evenly divided in the field events with each team taking three first places; however, the visitors secured second places in all the field events to give them an edge in that division.

One of the best performances of the day occurred in the mile medley relay, when Keller running as number one man, circled the quarter mile track in 56 seconds to give his team a 30-yard lead.

Little, Jenkins, Keller, Horne, and Meredith scored first places for the Indians, with Hogan, Morgan, Weaver, Cluck, Kohonke, Hornberger, Harvey, Osborne, and Halpin adding lesser places to aid in the narrow margin of victory for Arkansas State.

Encountering defeat for the first time in two years, the State College "spikers" journeyed to Cape Girardeau and were defeated by the score of 65-57 by the Southeast Missouri State Teachers' College. The meet was close from start to finish, with there never being over five points difference in the scores of the two teams. The mile relay was the deciding factor of the meet. The Indian relay team was not at its best due to the loss of Joe Hornberger, crack half-miler and quarter-miler, who was injured earlier in the meet.

Captain Harold Little was high point man for the meet, netting ten points with first places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Other men winning first places were Keller, 440; Hendrix, 220-low hurdles; Horne, shot-put; Hornberger, 880-yard run; Collins, discus throw; and Meredith, broad jump.

To conclude the season the Indians had very little trouble in taking the Little Big Three meet from Monticello to the score of 88-44. Magnolia for the second year was unrepresented in Little Big Three competition.

Joe Hornberger, one of the most capable quarter and half-milers in Arkansas State history, was elected captain to guide the Indian "spikers" during the 1932 season.

Who's Who

A new policy was adopted this year in the choosing of the students for the Who's Who section. The whole task of selection was left to a committee of students and faculty members, and their choice was of the fifteen outstanding students in Arkansas State College this year. Their judgment was based on the various points of student activity that makes students outstanding. We hope that their selections meet the approval of the student body, our great critic. The "Most Popular Instructor" selection was based on general consensus of student opinion.

Six Wins and Two Defeats Give Indian Gridiron Warriors Their Best Season in Years

The Indian football season of 1931 was the most successful Arkansas State has enjoyed for several years. Winning six and losing only two games during the season, the "tribe" amassed a total of 89 points to their opponents' 53 points. The Indians were undefeated on their home field during the season, both defeats being suffered on foreign soil. Coach Dale built up a powerful offensive team, that scored at least one touchdown in every game. Only an Arkansas State Teachers College "Bear" and a Monticello "Boll Weevil" were able to outscore the wearers of the Red and Black during the season, and then only after hard fought battles in which the State warriors left their marks deeply imprinted.

The Indians met the State Alumni in a pre-season game at Kays Field in order that the strong and weak points of the squad might be discovered and remedied before the opening of the season. Coach Dale used his entire squad, and that, combined with early season fumbles, held the Indians offensive to only one touchdown, and a 6-0 victory.

Tennessee Bethel opened the regular season here, on September 26, under the arc-lights. The Corporals were snowed under by a fast Indian running attack to the tune of 34-0.

State scored twice in the first quarter, once in the second quarter, and made their two final touchdowns in the third period. A feature of the game was a 55-yard run for a touchdown by Graves, Indian quarterback, on an intercepted Bethel pass. State showed plenty of power and drive, as well as a strong line and defense.

Next to fall before the State Clan were Coach Dewey McKnelly's fast Kentucky Bethel eleven. A big second quarter in which the Dale-men scored two touchdowns and an extra point, was too great a handicap for the visitors to overcome, and the Indians were credited with their third straight victory, score 13-0. A long pass, Graves to Covington, after a steady march from midfield, accounted for the first score. A line plunge by Captain Winters late in the first half accounted for the final scoring of the game. The Kentucky eleven stiffened in the last half, and held the local team scoreless for the remainder of the game.

A light but fast University of Tennessee Junior College team threw a scare into Indian followers by holding the tribe scoreless throughout the first half, but late in the third quarter the Indian machine began clicking smoother and Speck, 130-pound back, went through the center of the line for the winning touchdown. Neither team scored in the final quarter and the Indians hung onto their fourth victory by the margin of that one touchdown, 6-0.

The Indians tasted of defeat for the first time, the Arkansas State Teachers of Conway winning a hard fought game to the score of 18-6. The Teachers scored first on a line plunge by Geis in the second quarter. Graves, injured Indian quarterback, was inserted in the line-up for only three minutes, long enough for him to step 45 yards through the entire Teachers team for a touchdown in the fourth quarter. With the score tied well into the final period, the Teachers came back strong and carried the ball down the field for their second touchdown. On the last play of the game a State Teachers back broke loose for a long run and the final marker of the game. The Indians were handicapped by injuries to several regular players, and had the entire squad been in good condition, the score could easily have been reversed. We salute the students of Hendrix College for their enthusiastic support given us in this our first game of the year on foreign soil.

After two weeks of rest, the Indians met and defeated the West Tennessee Teachers of Memphis, by a 14-6 score. The visitors scored early in the first quarter after blocking an Arkansas State punt. The tribe trailed the Teachers into the middle of the third quarter, when they opened up with a driving offensive which carried the ball deep into the territory of the Tiger. On the first play of the fourth quarter Hawley, stellar Indian back, carried the ball through the line for a touchdown, and Graves converted for the extra point from placement, putting the locals into the lead. Five minutes later, Moreman, Indian center, blocked a Teachers punt, and two running plays gave the redmen their second touchdown of the quarter.

A powerful Monticello A. and M. "Boll Weevil" threw the tribe for a loss to the score of 22-6, in the Armistice Day game on the Monticello field. State scored first in the game before the game was three minutes old on a long end run by Graves. But disheartened by a Monticello safety after a fumble behind our own goal, the Dale-men were unable to stop the powerful passing combination of Spencer and Perry, which netted for them three touchdowns and victory. State was successful in stopping their running attack, but could not cope with their powerful passing offensive.

The Indians closed the 1932 season, and staged a wonderful celebration of Homecoming and Dad's Day with a victory over the Magnolia Muleriders to the score of 13-7. State played a wonderful defensive game throughout the first three quarters of the game, and four times repulsed a Magnolia offensive from within the Indian ten-yard line. In the third quarter the visitors went through the Indian line for a touchdown, and the extra point gave them a seven-point lead. Not to be denied and defeated on Homecoming Day, the tribe came back strongly and mixed a running and passing attack to place the ball in scoring position. A pass, Graves to Hendrix, accounted for the Indians' first touchdown. The attempt for extra point was unsuccessful and Magnolia still lead in the final quarter by the score of 7-6. A poor Magnolia punt, downed on the visitor's 35-yard marker, and runs by Keller, Hawley, and Graves, put the ball on the Magnolia 4-yard line. Graves went through the line for the final touchdown. State staged a wonderful defense against Magnolia passes in the last two minutes of play. Captain Winters covered the entire secondary defense against these passes, knocking down three of six attempted. This was the first State College victory over Magnolia in football in five years. Between halves Miss Georgia May Graves was crowned as Queen of Homecoming and Dad's Day by Captain "Pug" Winters.

The success or failure of the unique idea of arrangement attempted in this volume of The Yearling, is due largely to the work of the staff, one of the largest ever used in the production of a yearbook at Arkansas State. The Editor and Business Manager wish to take this opportunity to thank every member of the staff, who has worked to make this book possible.

Indians Finish on Top in the Arkansas Basketball Race

Undisputed Conference Champions, and rightful claimants to the State title were the honors won by Coach Jack Dale's 1932 edition of the Indians. Featuring a fast breaking offense and a stubborn man-to-man defense, the Indians experienced their most successful cage season in several years. Sweeping aside all opposition in the northern division of the Conference, the Indians gained the title in their championship playoff with Magnolia A. and M., winners of the southern division, by winning two games in a thrilling three-game series. A challenge was issued to Hendrix College for a playoff for the State title, and their refusal was accepted as forfeiture to all claim on the title.

Coach Dale had six veterans as a nucleus around which to build his championship machine, while three new men played prominent roles in the Indians' drive. Led by Captain Hosea McDaniel, the veterans, Keller, Thornton, and Lamb, withstood opponents fire, while the freshmen, Himes, Covington, and Downs were being brought into shape for State's hectic season.

With only two days practice, the Indians defeated the Jonesboro Y. M. C. A. 17 to 15 in a practice game. The following night, the Indians defeated the Shooting Stars of Jonesboro by a 35-9 score.

On Monday, December 7th, ten members of the Indian squad left for the annual Northern trip, which lasted for twelve days and brought the State aggregation against the best teams in Missouri and Illinois. Men making the trip besides Coach Dale and Captain McDaniel, were: Thornton, Lamb, Keller, Hendrix Covington, Himes, Downs, Starr, and Morgan. The Indians lost the first game of the trip to the Southeast Missouri Teachers at Cape Girardeau by a 33-24 score. The following night the Dale-men lost to Southern Illinois Normal University of Carbondale, in an exciting game, score 25-22. Two nights later, the Indians lost another decision to the "Redbirds" of Central Illinois Normal by a 39-19 count. Neither team scored during the first ten minutes of this contest. The next night the State Five won a 30-23 victory over Concordia Seminary at St. Louis. Next they lost a thrilling overtime battle by a 51-49 score to Eastern Illinois Normal University at Charleston. After a three day lay-off, the Indians met defeat at the hands of Loyola University five of Chicago, 36-28. Loyola had one of the strongest teams in the north, and they were forced to the limit in defeating the Redmen. The following night the Indians were victorious to the score of 28-22 over the Sparks College quintet of Shelbyville. The last game of the trip was dropped to the strong Shurtleff College of Alton, Illinois, by a 46-21 count.

Immediately following the Christmas holidays, the Indians began preparation for their strong state schedule, by again defeating the Jonesboro Y. M. C. A., 46-28. Two nights later the team journeyed to Memphis, where they soundly trounced the West Tennessee Teachers 25-17. This is the first time in the history of their competition that State has defeated the Teachers on their own court. On January 8 and 9, the Indians dropped two games to the Henderson State "Reddies" by the scores of 42-32 and 42-37. These games did not mar the conference standing because they were in the Southern Division.

The Indians hit their stride in the first Northern Division game, by soundly trouncing Little Rock Junior College, 54-33. The following night, West Tennessee Teachers again fell before the Dale-men to the score of 30-28, with a sensational shot by Lamb as the gun fired ending the game.

One week later, the Indians defeated the Arkansas State Teachers by a 32-31 count. Bob Downs featured in this game by scoring 18 points for State, besides playing a great defensive game. The first game in February, found Arkansas Tech as State's opponent. The Indians easily defeated the "Wonder Boys" by a 52-23 score. With only two days' rest, the Indians invaded Conway and Russell-ville, defeating the State Teachers, 38-24, and the following night defeating Tech for the second time by the score of 38-29. The Indians ended their Northern Division schedule, undefeated, by trouncing Little Rock Junior College to the score of 52-27. The following night, the Indians dropped a one point decision in an overtime battle with the Colonial Bakers of Little Rock, state independent champions, by a score of 59-58.

Magnolia A. and M. fell before the attack of the Indians in the first game of the series for the Conference championship, by a score of 30-22. Lamb led the Indian attack with 13 points while McDaniel played a wonderful defensive game. One week later the Indians dropped the second championship tilt at Magnolia, 28-26. State was leading at the half, 14-0, but the Muleriders staged a spectacular rally, and nosed the Indians out in the last minute of play. The following night the deciding game of the series was played on a neutral court, at Camden. The Indians were easy victors by an impressive 40-27 score. This victory gave the Indians the Conference Championship, and claim to the State title.

Following the games at Magnolia and Camden, coaches of the Conference teams, picked their first and second All-Conference teams. Captain Hosea Mc-Daniel was selected as a guard on the first team, Nolan Lamb, as a forward on the first team, and Jimmie Himes as a guard on the second team. Bob Downs, State center, was given that berth on the mythical All-State second team selected by Roy Reid, sports writer at Conway.

The entire championship Indian team will be back next year and another championship is eagerly looked for by State students and supporters.

- 1. PROFESSOR EINSTEIN STROW, Ph. D., F. O. B., I. O. U.—Professor of Relativity, including poor and rich relatives (there ain't no such thing) Dr. Strow came to us highly recommended in all forms of Physics, and Girlology—strongly recommended by himself.
- 2. WILLIAM BILLY MATTHEWS, A. B., C. D., E. F., etc—Professor of Mathematics. After having spent the greater part of his life in a freshman mathematics class, we find no one better disqualified for this position.
- 3. HA. CARNEY, Ha, Cha-Cha—Professor of Political science. When one has been on the losing end of a political campaign so many times, he can very well tell college students what not to do in running for Constables of their respective townships.
- 4. GENERAL PIERRE LATOURETTE—Professor of Military Science and tactics. We take our hats off (oh, I forgot we're bareheaded) to the greatest soldier in America.
- 5. LOUIS BENTON HOGUE—Dean of Men—Anyone that has been in and out of Lewis Hall so many times is certainly qualified.

Drastic Ruling Adopted

Marvelous Record, and Far Reaching Popularity Qualify Him.

As a result of the recent investigation of athletics at home and abroad, by the East-Western Association, they have issued a drastic ruling that all athletes must complete at least one semester hour of credit each semester in question, or at any other time they see fit.

This ruling, one of the most drastic of modern times will probably completely revolutionize modern college athletics, in that some athletes will have to devote some time to attending classes, and will be mentally unfit for the present streneous wear and tear on the medula obligata (er sumpin').

Much criticism has been offered pro and con on this subject. One criticism at some sources, is that the numbers of players will be reduced and much of the blank space on the bleachers will be kept warm by explayers. It has even been hinted that the excess football equipment might be worn at Aggie dances to assure full protection.

It has been given out in some reliable sources that the next move of the association will be to require compulsory chapel attendance. We feel sure that if this measure is adopted, the Rules Committee will have to call an emergency session and reduce the number of men to say half a dozen loyal subjects, who keep their seat numbers covered every Tuesday and Thursday.

Coach Dale, said in way of comment, that he'll have to pass all those (|"!(|"*|(guys in Physical Ed., now.

At a recent meeting of the Bricklayers Local No. 56789, a motion was presented and passed that the Local support Dean X. Y. Eli, Dean of the Arkansas State Institute for Feeble-Minded, for president of the Bricklaying Institute to succeed Dr. Edward C. Snilch, retiring prexy. Far reaching popularity among State students was given as the reason for the action.

In his numerous appearance before the chapel at the Institute, Dean Eli has astounded the minds from the boldest freshman to the meekest Senior with his incredible wit and far reaching wisdom.

Backed by a gigantic array of academic qualifications, there is no doubt that the Dean will be thoroughly capable of handling the presidential duties. He received his high school diploma at the age of twenty-seven, after fourteen years in high school. Upon beginning his college career at Yarvard he was given the honor of being the dumbest freshman, which honor he held for four consecutive years.

Dean Eli also has claim to fame in that he was captain of the ping-pong team at Yarvard, and piccolo player in the Symphony archestra. It is very probable that he will exercise his piccolo playing ability and organize a class at the Institute.

"Goo-goo," gurgled his baby daughter, delightfully, and went on playing with her toes.

THE SOUTHERN TRIP

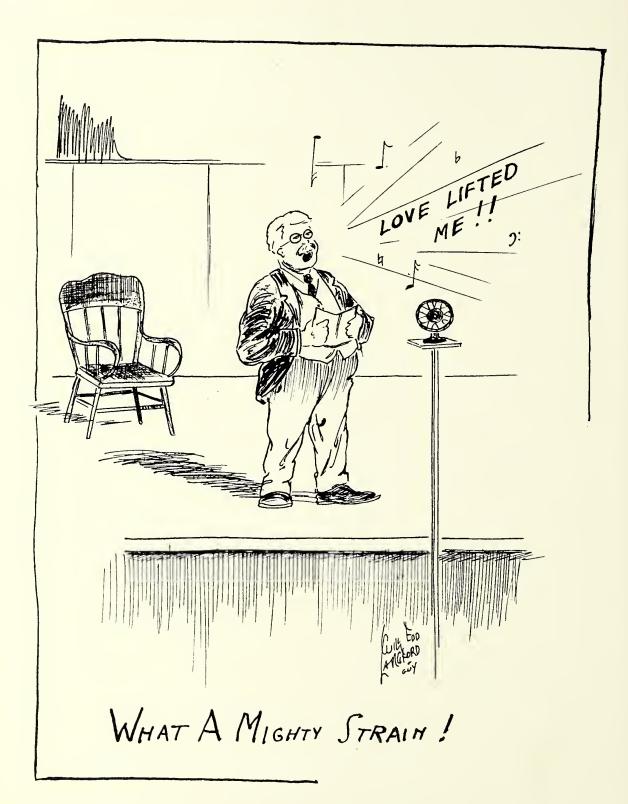

BY DICKY DYE

The first day you were gone, m' dear, I missed you terribly! (The second day was just as bad-I wandered aimlessly). Of course I should have missed you more When day three came along; (But one gets used to anything-I even sang a song!) The fourth day I religiously Endeavored to be blue; (But you seemed so far away, I'd most forgotten you!) And then the day when you returned— 'Twas plain you did not bore me! (Still, I could very soon forget, Were you not there before me).

- ESLEY REMLEY: Not only because he has impressed us so much with his singing, but because he's undoubtedly the most popular man in Lewis Hall.
- VIRGINIA RAY: She also sang. And what a technique she has at a program dance. She just won't wait—to be asked.
- 3. LENYNE HUME: His campus popularity ended way too soon—or did it end, girls?
- TED WAYLAND: A guy with his reputation could only be elected unanimously.
- 5. EWEL DODSON: After so many years, that "wit" can very easily become something more than amusing.
- 6. "SQUIRTO" MATHIS: Such a pest and she's only in the 11th grade. Gosh, we certainly should leave some of our sympathy to the college students of the future, who'll have to endure her.

Should we go on to the faculty?

But they wouldn't allow us to have an H. A. section, so we can't include them.
